ANNUAL YAQUI DANCE SUNDAY

Yaqui Indians South of Tempe to Conduct Customary Easter Ceremony. The Dance a Prominent Feature.

The annual Easter religious ceremony at the Yaqui village, Guadalupe, south of Tempe, opens this evening and the new Yaqui dance will occur as usual tomorrow night. Last year's dance at the Yaqui camp attracted visitors from every part of the valley. By every means of travel people made their way to catch a glimpse of the ceremony and the queer style of dancing proved a novel and interesting sight.

That the dance and other festivities will be in keeping this year with those of the past was stated by the Yaqui chief, Luis, when questioned yesterday. The fourteen young men who in an organized body carry on a part of the religious ceremony will be on hand and it is understood that of the trio of special dancers who perform in a nearby hut, one is just a recent arrival from the interior of Mexico, the original home of the Yaqui Indians of this camp.

It is probable that the week-end festivities at the camp will be commenced tonight. Various attractions are staged tomorrow and annual dance commences at sun-down tomorrow evening. The dancing is continued through the night and ceases just as the sun appears over the horizon on Easter morning.

THIS IS FIREMAN'S DAY

Today in Tempe belongs to the firemen and specially boosted with a big band and hose cart parade this afternoon, the department members plan to make of tonight's benefit at the Tempean theater one of the biggest stunts ever. "The House of a Thousand Candles" is the picture Manager Roy McCracken chose for this occasion and to its showing of six reels he has added a fireman's special comedy film in two parts entitled "When the Fire Bell Rang." The members of the two hose companies and the members of the Merchants band will be out at 5:30 for their parade and they will be on deck again during the early part of the evening when the show starts. One half of the gross proceeds from tonight's receipts at the Tempean go to the fireboys and they are boosting hard to raise every available cent.

CONFERENCE ON CIVIC MATTERS

At a supper held at the American Kitchen Wednesday evening, the city council, the water board, the directors of the Commercial club and several other citizens met in a conference regarding the necessary developments that would be needed in order to make of the ten acre park owned by the town into an amusement park. Suggestions were made as to a swimming pool, tennis courts, children's playground and etc. The matter of expense and the town's lack of funds for such purposes, were discussed as was also the possibility of arranging for the proposition by private means, with some little help from the city. The matter was carried over until the regular meeting of the Commercial club on May 9th. The city council was asked and consented to take up the park matter at their next meeting and report on the feasibility of the plans proposed. J. G. Spangler, Fred Brackett and P. E. Fuller were appointed a committee to report on the probable cost of the work outlined. G. C. Sherwood and Rev. Francis Hoy were placed on a committee to report on play ground apparatus. The whole proposition is now in a state of being discussed and will be made at the next regular meeting and unless entirely ports will be made at the next practicable the plan will be dropped. There is at present being dug a place for a swimming pool back of the second ward chapel, and this also will be discussed as to its sufficiency.

PRIMARY ELECTION

Very little interest was manifested in the primary election held here yesterday. The old council had no opposition, and the chief interest centered about the vote for city clerk. This interest was mainly felt by the candidates, the public seeming somehow to feel that the interests of the town would suffer in the hands of either aspirant.

HOLLADAY BACK FROM ROOSEVELT

M. P. Holladay of the Holladay Drug Co. returned yesterday afternoon from Roosevelt where he has spent the last several days in removing to Mesa the ice and cold storage plant formerly used in connection with the hotel at Roosevelt. The drug company has purchased the plant which has a five ton capacity and will install it in connection with the wholesale ice cream department of the firm.

WILL LOCATE HERE

Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Gray of San Francisco, friends of Geo. E. Kellogg of the Mountain States Telephone Co., have been visiting in Mesa for the last few days. It happens that Kellogg is an enthusiastic Mesa booster, with the result that the Gray family have decided to locate here. They will occupy one of the Rollins cottages on West Second avenue.

MOVED TO NEW HOME

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Denson have removed from East Main street to the new bungalow on north McDonald next door to the Phil Metz home. The building is not yet entirely completed and the Densons say they are "camping" for the present. This bungalow is one of the most complete and modern cottages of Mesa and is a credit to this street of noticeably attractive residences.

RETURNED TO CANADA

Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Easton parents of F. B. Easton proprietor of the bakery by that name, started for their home in Toronto Canada yesterday, going to Phoenix by auto where they will take the train. The latter is now so far recovered as to be able to leave her bed.

YOU WILL want to attend the dance at the Mesa K. of P. Hall Friday night, April 21. Good music, careful management and congenial treatment. It will soon be too warm for dancing. Don't miss this one. (Adv.)
